Root Root Root for the Right Cause

AMY STEWART, MSN, RN, DNS-MT, QCP-MT, RAC-MT, RAC-MTA
AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF POST-ACUTE CARE NURSING

A resident falls out of bed and fractures his hip. A staff member is accused of abuse. Quality Measures scores don't measure up to quality care delivery. All three of these very different issues has one thing in common; they all require a facility investigation to help determine the root cause. When an adverse event happens, leaders must respond by investigating the incident and determining its true root cause or causes. Root cause analysis is not just about finding a cause, it is about finding the right cause. The one that set the chain of events in motion. To do this, you need to have a systematic process for gathering and analyzing all possible causes that will help lead you to identifying the root cause of the issue.

In this session, we will use a real-life scenario and apply a six-step approach to a comprehensive root cause analysis. You'll gain confidence in your ability to seek out root cause and lead a successful investigation.

The State of Nursing & Transformation thru Innovation

REBECCA LOVE | INTELYCARE | CHICAGO • IL

The nursing workforce is facing unprecedented challenges unlike any we have seen in modern history; from reports of 1:3 nurses leaving bedside practice - we are facing a shortage in nursing that is on the verge of crippling healthcare. In this session, we will look at the past, present and future of nursing - and how the only way forward is to innovate on what needs to change. And it will be nursing who leads this transformation thru innovation to save US Healthcare.

9:30am - 10:45am

Special Address from the Centers for Disease Control

DR. ABIGAIL (DR. ABBY) CARLSON | CDC | ATLANTA • GA

DR. CARLSON IS THE MEDICAL OFFICER FOR THE DIVISION OF HEALTHCARE QUALITY PROMOTION & MEDICAL LEAD FOR THE PROJECT FIRSTLINE AT THE CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL AND PREVENTION (CDC)

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) message is that "infection control is more than just policies and procedures, it's an essential part of caring for and protecting patients". In this presentation, Dr. Abby will stress the important role that nurses play in promoting good infection control practices not only during the prevention and management of COVID but throughout their everyday practices. Dr. Abby will discuss an important strategy to prevent infections through knowledge and education with the investment of the CDC Project Firstline program which encourages the value of partnership and engagement in advocating infection control to protect all of us. Dr. Abby will discuss the benefits of working together during COVID.

Secrets to Success: Enhancing Recruitment & Retention

TRISH RICHARDSON | RELIAS | MORRISVILLE • NC

Incentivized recruitment packages and enhanced marketing campaigns are wreaking havoc on operating budgets. Considering the current healthcare environment with increasing numbers of retiring nurses, rising competition for clinical support staff and proposed SNF VBP reforms and care quality initiatives recently announced by the White House, healthcare organizations are seeking out ways to stand out from among their competition to attract, retain and engage top talent. This session will include how a simple shift in your HR mindset will boost staff recruitment and retention, improve employee engagement, and enhance the patient and resident experience.

12:30pm - 1:30pm

LUNCH +

Fostering Excellence in Skilled Wound Care

1:30pm - 2:45pm

DR. JUDITH N. SCARDILLO | ALBANY MEDICAL CENTER | ALBANY•NY

This session will focus on wound and skin care, strategies for pressure injury prevention, and tools and resources for implementation of an organizational pressure injury prevention program for nurse leaders. Current evidence-based practice will be discussed as well as practical strategies to maintain and evaluate quality care for residents at high risk.

Leading and Living with Soul

10:00am - 11:30am

DENISE BOUDREAU | DRIVE | MANASQUAN•NJ

Who you are, what you hold dear, what upsets you, and what underlies your decisions as a leader and as a unique person, are all connected to your personal values. But the missed opportunity is, most people never take the time to learn what those precious and powerful intrinsic things are!

In this session, you will have the opportunity to do an introspective reflection on your very own personal values. You'll learn practical strategies you can implement immediately to apply these values in your daily routines, allowing you to use them as a driving force and a personal true north star. After this session, attendees will be able to determine their top 10 personal values; understand why living a values-driven life is crucial for personal fulfillment and identify ways to live your values daily.

CLOSING KEYNOTE:

Reigniting the Passion

11:30am - 1:00pm

DR. FRANCIS BATTISTI | BATTISTI MANAGEMENT AFFILIATES | BINGHAMTON•NY

Join Dr. Francis Battisti as he closes our conference and encourages participants to build on the momentum of the moment, with hope, inspiration, and affirmation. Using the theme of the Olympic Torch which represents Spirit, Knowledge and Life and takes you on a journey of exploration, reconnecting, and discovery of practical ways to continue to reignite the flame of passion for our work that each of us has had.

We all know how the experience of the past two years has impacted us and now we need to focus on growing professional and personal performance with renewed energy and grit. This closing address will introduce participants to strategies that will assist with developing a resilient mindset and lifestyle for increased satisfaction and productivity.
